TTB Publishes “Ingredients and Processes Exempt from Formula Requirements under 27 CFR part 25” Guidance

TTB published guidance on March 11, 2013, regarding ingredients and processes that we have determined are exempt from formula requirements under the TTB regulations (27 CFR part 25).

Under 27 CFR 25.55(f), TTB may determine whether the use of particular ingredients and processes requires brewers to file a formula for approval. TTB also may exempt the use of a particular flavoring (other than flavorings containing alcohol), coloring, or food material from the TTB formula filing requirements.

This new Web page includes a list of processes for which brewers must file formulas, a list of processes for which brewers are not required to file formulas, tables that list processes and ingredients that do not require formulas, and instructions on how to request a TTB determination regarding ingredients or processes. TTB will update this page if we determine that other ingredients or processes also are exempt from the formula requirements.
